

STOCKS OFF A POINT

Rumors of a Compromise on the Silver Question Did It

MARKETS ARE CLOSED WEEK

Railway Stocks Well Traded in. Wheat Was Lower—Lard and Ribs Advanced—Provisions Dull.

New York, Oct. 10.—Money on call has been steady, ranging from 2 to 3 per cent; last loan and closing offered at 2 per cent.

Posed rates, $145 to $150.

Government bonds have been steady.

New York, Oct. 10.—Speculation at the stock exchange today was even more perplexing than ever. The market presented a curious spectacle, the discredited industrials marching up while a number of the railway stocks were steadily sinking to a lower level. At the start Louisville & Nashville broke over a point to 45%, and the railway list receded in sympathy. The industrials on the other hand began to advance and continued their upward course almost to the close. American sugar rose 1% to 92%, American cotton 1% to 86%; Chicago gas 1% to 61%, and whisky 1% to 31%. The buying of these stocks were said to be for inside account, but shrewd observers in the board claim to be able to trace the purchasers near the stock exchange. Northwest, Jersey Central, St. Paul also developed a little strength, but Louisville & Nashville again began to sag and thus put an end to purchases of railway stocks for the long account. Just at the close the whole market ran off on reports from Washington that unconditional repeal would be shelved and a compromise bill adopted by the senate. The market closed weak.

The net changes for the day show losses of 1,000 in the railway list, Louisville & Nashville leading, and advances of 140 in the industrial.

American tobacco preferred scored the largest gain. There were a few railway stocks which show gains for the day, notably Northwest, Jersey Central and Pullman Palace, which are 1% higher.

Total sales for the day were 191,067 shares.

WORTH A QUARTER.

A Great Scheme For Doing Away With Iron in the System.

The city editor was almost weeping for a sensation when the weird looking man came in.

"I've got a great scheme," he said mysteriously by way of salutation.

"What is it?" asked the C. E.

"Scheme for changing the color of red hair."

"Suppose persons having it don't want it changed? Red is a glorious color."

"They don't have to unless they want to. Nothing compulsory about it."

"What is it? Go on and explain."

The visitor pulled up a chair.

"You know," he said, "that red hair is the result of a surplus of iron in the system. This is what imparts the vigor, the great vitality, the overflowing and thoroughly healthy animal life that runs riot through the veins of the ruddy haired. And this strong, sentient animal life is what renders them more intense in all their emotions than their more languid fellow creatures. The excess of iron is also the cause of freckles on the peculiarly clear, white skin which always accompanies red hair. The skin is abnormally sensitive to the action of the sun's rays, which not only bring out the little brown spots in abundance, but also burn like a mustard plaster, producing a queer, creepy sensation, as if the skin was wrinkling up. See?"

The city editor nodded.

"Well, now, what I propose to do is this," continued the schemer, "I'll arrange a steel barrel, with an armature around it connected with a 40 horsepower dynamo and make a magnet of it that will draw the rivets out of a boiler. Into that I'll put my patient for three hours every day, and I'll guarantee there won't be a sliver of iron in his system at the end of a week. Then by keeping it up a month or so in smaller doses the hair will assume some other color, and there you are. Ain't it a corker? Lent me a quarter to go out and make the first payment on my dynamo," and the C. E. lent him a quarter.

"But what do you do with the 5 cents?"

"Buy some more candy,"—Boston Budget.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Pending the publication of the government report which was not due until November 1st, there was an aversion to making any new contracts and as a consequence business was only moderate today and what was transacted was at a lower range of prices and within a narrow limit. Outside markets declined yesterday while Chicago was celebrating its 100th anniversary.
